Fichet-Bauche AF II – Reinforced cabinet for confidential information

The Fichet-Bauche AF II is a reinforced cabinet designed for the secure storage of confidential information, sensitive documents and files that must not be accessible to unauthorised persons. It complies with the requirements of the French “Secret Défense” regulation according to IGI 1300, Class B, and is intended for professional environments where discretion, controlled access and information protection are important.

The AF II is available in three sizes, from 210 to 705 litres, with one or two doors. Its construction consists of a 2 mm steel body and 65 mm thick double-walled doors. The doors can be opened up to 180°, ensuring full access to the contents during daily use.

The locking system consists of 20 mm cylindrical locking bolts, combined with hinge-side locking and an attack-triggered blocking mechanism. This construction provides increased resistance against unauthorised access and simple burglary attempts.

The Fichet-Bauche AF II is available with three types of locks compliant with EN 1300 and carrying the A2P label: an MxB + 3 Tubes key lock, a Moneo V mechanical combination lock or a Nectra electronic combination lock.

The interior can be fitted with shelves and optional internal compartments of 370 × 220 mm. The AF II is therefore suitable for administrative, institutional and professional environments where confidential documents, sensitive files or other information carriers need to be stored securely, clearly and discreetly.
