Additional information

brand: ATB Safes

ATB PSL – fire-resistant S2 document cabinet according to EN 14450 and EN 15659 LFS 30 P

The ATB PSL range consists of fire-resistant document cabinets for the secure storage of paper documents, files, binders and valuables. The cabinets are certified according to EN 14450, security level S2, and offer 30 minutes of fire protection for paper documents according to EN 15659, LFS 30 P.

The range includes both compact single-door models and larger two-door archive cabinets. The single-door models combine limited depth with a practical internal volume. Depending on the model, the capacity ranges from 24 to 64 litres.

For larger archiving needs, the ATB PSL range offers two-door models with a significantly larger storage volume. These fire-resistant archive cabinets are designed for the storage of binders and administrative documents and, depending on the version, offer capacity for 28 to 75 DIN A4 binders. The internal volume ranges from 343 to 919 litres.

The cabinets are equipped with a four-sided door locking system and a double-bit high-security lock with two keys. The door opens up to 180°, ensuring easy access to the contents. The single-door models are supplied with right-hand hinges as standard.

The ATB PSL fire-resistant document cabinets are prepared for floor anchoring and are supplied with anchoring material. The single-door models also include an additional rear-wall drilling. The single-door models are finished in graphite grey RAL 7024. The larger two-door versions are available in light grey RAL 7035.
